

I shouldn't feel like this
I shouldn't want you like this
I shouldn't struggle to breathe I see you
I shouldn't see you when I close my eyes
So many things I shouldn't do
But I don't know what I should do.

I shouldn't make you feel like this
I shouldn't let you call me like that
I shouldn't let you look at me like this
Or like that, or like that
Or even like that
But yet here you are
And yet, here am I
We shouldn't be here, but here we are.

We shouldn't hold hands this long
We shouldn't meet this often
We shouldn't walk this long
Our calls shouldn't go all night
Our lunch dates shouldn't take all afternoon
Our dinners shouldn't get to midnight
And yet it is almost eleven
And still no sign of you leaving.

Maybe I should switch off on you

Ring! Ring!? Never pick up on you

But can I?

Can I go a day without calling you?

Hearing your voice?

Seeing your face?

Can I really get to sleep without thinking about you?

Tell me really

And if I can, why am I not able to?

Why am I this obsessed with you?

I used to be emotionally distant

But this, this is not me

You got me tripping even when you're distant

And I just can't control this

I am out of control

Tell me now

How do I stop this?

I've never heard weed but I am on a roll

My head's spinning like a merry-go-round

And my feet just can't feel the ground

I used to curve girls like you

Never thought I'd love girls like you

But here I am thinking about the girl who's most like you, you!

Never thought a guy like me could fall for a girl like you

But now, call me Maroon V cause I can sing about a girl like you.

Funny how life just makes you realize that what you think you want is not necessarily what you want

Accidentally doing the wrong thing but it works out instead of messing up

But I don't know if this is one of those moments

One of those mistakes you gotta make

One of those lines you gotta cross

One of those buttons you gotta press

Just to pull strings with the unknown

So now

I don't know if you're what I'm looking for

If you're what I think I need

I wouldn't give you a second thought

But now you flood my two a.m thoughts

Now I am trying to forget about you

Cause this is confusing me

Having you

Cause I don't think I should have you

But my mind can't even give you a break

Don't you get tired crisscrossing my thoughts

Mixing my thoughts like a blender

Churning out everything else

Cause I just can't focus with you on my mind

Distracted with you

Distracted without you

And now I either take the shot
Or I never get to feel what scoring you is
Or just having lava on my face when all this mountain blows up in it
I wanna know what the blasts will be
Fireworks or bomblasts
But either way, I won't regret it
Cause deep down I know you are worth it
Worth the confusion and distraction
And everything else it could take!

...the End!
